DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: At the beginning of the first page, the specification should be amended to provide the continuing data. It is noted that the instant case should have been a continuation of serial No. 09/336,251 but not a division of 09/336,251 because claim in serial No. 10/672,002 is not restricted out from any one of the parent case.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

- 3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
- 4. Regarding claim 1, line 16, the phrase "the primary mixture of gases comprising a first reaction gas------ which is richer in the first reaction gas" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the primary mixture is richer in the first reaction gas or the primary gas mixture contain higher amount of first reaction gas than the second reaction gas?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Application/Control Number: 10/672,002 Page 3

Art Unit: 1765

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Goodyear et al (5,532,190).

Goodyear et al disclose a method of manufacturing an electronic device using a plasma treatment, wherein a device substrate is mounted on a supporting electrode (11), which is facing a perforated electrode (12), a reactive plasma (5) being generated in space between the electrodes (col.3, lines 65-col.4, line 9 and figure 1).

Goodyear et al teach that a reaction or primary gas mixture (25) flows in a direction across the substrate with a first flow channel (25a) in a first space (12a) and with a second flow channel (25b) in a second area (12b) in such that the second area being excluded from the first area (col.6, lines 41-50 and figure 1).

Goodyear et al also teach that each gas supply line is connected with flow controller (23a, 23b in figure 1).

Goodyear et al further teach that controlling the gas concentration via mixing flow meter (24a) in order to maintain uniform plasma treatment, wherein the reaction or primary gas mixture contain higher amount of a first reaction gas (SiH4) than a second reaction gas (N₂) (col.5, lines 29-32).

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. List of references are cited in PTO 892.
